Quite remarkable discovery indeed...some early reports are indicating that it can even speak! It's on the record as saying such things as "It's not a skin it's a texture, tards" and "No, it's not a tunnel...it's a hallway". For this, it is being named the "Yeti of Correction" Anthropologists are calling it the "HomoEgomaniacian".

"Yeah it was a frustrating bugger, always correcting even the slightest falacy in your speech."

More info to come on this amazing discovery.

Ummm...wow. You think you're being original, hmm? It's been done several hundred times. Posting an edited pic of someone else's face in a trolling post is about as lame and unoriginal as it gets- not to mention the part about it being a troll post.
