The problem is, what would your bring up there? That mesa is usually crawling with Sakuras and Havocs so your SSM, Artillery, MRLS would be ownt. Not to mention your transport helicopter. I think it could work with a mammoth, because the mammoth would actually function as a shield for the helicopter from the Ramjets. If you could get up there though and fortify it. Then that would own and yes the other team would definately freak out

I was just on n00bstories 1 and no one would do it with me. Then we proceeded to have our asses handed to us when our PP blew up mysteriously.

Ive tried it just after seeing the clip.

It was very funny watch my m8 lefting the trans while i was in the buggy. We tried keeping the buggy steady enough so all he has to do is up, while i stay to is left and "block" it as its ramming me.
