Yup, I did it in macromedia flash, and I used the rotoscope technique(unfortunatley it only gets the basic figure, you have to add the rest of the detail yourself.), afterwards I took it into image ready to optimize it. it's a pretty neat effect though, i'm surprised you were able to figure that out you've got a good eye for animation.

I don't prefer to use it alot, but this seemed like a good time to implement it.

I didn't know the Ah-ha video was done that way, dang!

(I goofed up, as you can see the white lines around the pic.)

And by the way, I didn't use mspaint in the drawing, but it Kicks asprin!, I prefer it over photoshop in some instances.

Now.... What should I doodle next!?

Hell I didn't know they were animated until today. I would say that is fair use of his time. Better than getting high, watching the tube.

Ah yes, a classic

Because I'm hard hittin' - always biten - cool as hell

I got trees on my mirror so my car won't smell

Sittin' around the house - gettin' high and watchin' tube

Eating Colonel's chicken - drinkin' Heineken brew

I'm a gangster, I'm a prankster - I'm the king of the Ave.

I'm hated, confronted for the juice that I have

All the fly ladies are making a fuss

JV = God. Nickelodeon suck for canning Invader Zim.

Do some sort of Gir animation, maybe Gir making biscuits? that would rock - needs a big speech bubble saying "lets make biscuits"

If you want to do it and fancy making it an appropriate size for an avatar that would rock - my current avi is just a dancing gir I found on google, could use something new

Clicky

I don't see how this is such a shocker that someone could find "the finger" distasteful. Considering its implications I'm sure he'd find saying "Fuck You" to everyone distasteful as well. He may not be the sheltered one here considering the "ZOMG SOMEONE WHO IS DIFFERENT THAN ME? IMPOSEEBLAY!" mentality.

Eh, it's more or less just shocking that someone in this generation would find it as distasteful as he does. Not to mention his stance on a lot of other things is just reminiscent of someone sheltered.

Alright, I have taken all of your requests to draw something new, and after hours and hours of advanced animation techniques and use of superior drawing technology I have come up with this..

LOOK AT THE LITTLE TURTLE!

...Ok so the turtle's not that good, and it's completely off topic.. I've been busy studying game programming!

Dang I haven't checked these forums in a while..

And to the Goonsquad, I'M KRAYONS!

I'll kick your cans anyday!

About the controversy, this is where I stand:

The picture I made wasn't to be taken seriously or anything, but if I did intend to bring a message, I would never filter it for the public. People need to express themselves, we need more of that in today's society. It is essential that we speak up and take action for ourselves, for what we believe in.

We have enough plastic people being manipulated by the media as it is...

Never be conservative, always go all out.

Here lie the once alive turtles, helplessly slaughtered by an evil truck.
...But this is not where the story ends, this is where the story begins...

Little turtle and friends rose from the dead! Becuase all turtles have the ability to become zombies after death, Duh!(Yeah, what the f' do cats have!? hm!?) They had awakened with a blood pact of revenge and they felt reborn, more angrier and determined than ever! they followed the tracks of their very own blood from the twisted machine that killed them for days, they would find it.

The little turtles finally managed to get to the evil truck, and were able to climb aboard it thanks to the fact that all trucks come pre-built with turtle climbing ladders in case of apoctolyptic little turtle revenge.

One of the little turtles managed to commandeer the vehicle, they relentlessly drove it off a cliff in a kamakazi effort to insure that it was destroyed...

Meanwhile, Barnaby the cat who spins in circles endlessly and pretends he's megaman, is under the cliff enjoying himself. (He has no idea what is coming for him!, stoopid cats!)

The truck, the turtles and all their anger come crashing down on Barnaby the megaman pretending cat, and they all die... The end.

Now that Barnaby is dead, there is nothing left for you to resolve to paradox.....

YOUR BELIEF IN CAT SUPERIORITY IS FAULTY AT BEST.

Turtles Rule!

I know, I wish I could.

I have enough knowledge in html, css and flash to make one right now.

But at the moment I do not have the content or the resources(Money) to get a server to host, register a domain name and put something on it, but if I did, I would for sure.

(Geocities, and Googlepages suck!)

Once I get a little better at cartooning, i'll probably start working on getting one.

And don't say i'm a good for nothing slacker and that I should get a job. Haha.

Paradox, use The Gimp. It's free, and just as powerful as Photoshop. It's slightly different, but I've used it before and you can do the same exact stuff you can do in Photoshop. Plus, it's open-source, so it was also built for Linux and Mac.

It's true man.. Cat's are the root of all evil, they pee'd on my backpack once, and I went to skool with it, I had to wait in the office for my mom to pick me up for like 45 minutes!, my english class journal was drenched in cat pee.. now tell me, how the heck do you explain that to your teacher?

Would a turtle ever put you through that!, I think not!

And I don't know about you, but cat's always have this condescending manner they always walk with, like they think they're better than you or something, makes me just wanna get up and punch them in the face. (Of course I wouldn't.)

(Well, there is this one cat I have who is my friend., but still that's just one!)
