Readme=====Map Name: C&C_Tropics | Version 1.3
Creator: Aircraftkiller
Email: aircraftkiller@cncrenegade.info
Theatre: Afternoon, under a heavy tropical storm
Description: This is a regular C&C mode map. This small island off of the Bahamas is being battered by tropical storm Gordon. Heavy winds and rain have been reported and the island has been long since evacuated. A Tiberium meteor has slammed into one of the mountain ridges and is spreading the so-called plant further across the globe. The Tiberium Silos that have been added to the map give you one extra credit per second, so you receive three a second if the Tiberium Silo is still active in your base.

By the way if, for example, I was standing in front of the AGT and a section of the mountain disappeared near the big green bit, would you like to know?
Edit: Or maybe even something like lockers or other little bits, like bottles of chemicals, in the hospital? [December 29, 2002, 14:18: Message edited by: try_lee]

Not really. It's just minor visibility glitches that do not affect gameplay. But, seeing as how I already eliminated those bugs... Delete the C&C_Tropics.thu file and the mix file, then reinstall the map again and play. Leaving the old THU file causes problems with a new version of the map.

its weird that if you mask vulgarity on the forums they delete your post, but if you swear, they merely bleep it out. like when i said f0-0k
