You cant download quicktime without itunes anymore, they come in the same installer... believe me I looked for almost a week... >.<

you will just have to install both and then kick itunes back out again

Also look for the K-Lite codec pack.

If you don't want QuickTime, but you want the codecs:

There's also a RealPlayer alternative.

For some reason, a couple sites didn't like the QuickTime Alternative, so I had to get the StandAlone. However, RealPlayer Alternative works just fine for me, and kicks RealPlayer's ass.

FYI, the RealPlayer Alternative is on the site that I linked above.
