sigh so, did your computer pick up the disk and throw it at you then run into a corner and sulk because it does not like renegade?

if you want help maybe you could try telling us what the problem is, not just 'renegade wont install'.... any error messages, screenshots, what happens when you click install etc would help

Ok, how to take a screenshot;

1) Press the 'Print Scrn' key on your keyboard when the error is shown (Next to scroll lock usually, on the top row)

2) Open Paint, right click and hit paste. Then save as screenshot, save as type JPG

3) When your posting your reply there is a small box under the main message area, click Browse, and find your saved image. Then click OK, and Upload File. Now when you post your message it should be attached on the bottom.

What version of windows are you using?
