It looks good. The only comment I would like to point out is that the midsection needs more definition. The benches and fountain seem to join and unless you look twice it looks blurred together.

Looks good though.

look good, but you do need to change it so the benches and the fountain do not look "merged"

Higher resolution, take out the "made by N1WARHEAD", make the lamp posts with thinner poles, and redo the water in the fountain because at the moment ti looks like it will go up and splash all over the park.

My suggestions.
