So why do you have "626" in your name? Is that like your area code? I'm asking because it's mine.

If you're willing to do that then you can be willing to stop acting like you're a retard. You're too inconsistent in your English. We know you're putting on a front.

lol

And so you know:

they're -- contraction of "they" and "are"; IE: "They're going to the mall tomorrow."

their -- possessive; IE: "It belongs to them; therefore, it's their car."

there -- in or at that place; IE: "Over there!"

It's not that you don't know how to spell here, it's that you don't know which word to spell, which I'm trying to help you with.

Oh, come on. You know that he's as fake as Micheal Jackson's nose. If you look at his page, you know that he can put together a complete thought. He's putting on a front, and anybody that goes along with it is just as pathetic.
