You're not allowed on top of the ref because Renegade knows that you touch yourself at night.

RTFM!!

No, I kid.

If the ref doesn't have a roof, then logically, you're not supposed to be up there. Therefore don't ask.

dumbass

I don't care if some other guys are up there. That is a place that isn't designed to be walked on. Therefore, don't ask how. If you find out how, don't do it. Walking on the roofs on non-flying maps is eqivilant to abusing glitches. It will get you kicked on most well-moderated servers in the blink of an eye.

I say again. DON'T DO IT. These are the kindest words you're going to get out of this forum on the subject.

if you can jump high enough you can get on, i think a while ago there was a glitch so if you jumped enough you can get on.

but to get on now, in servers that don't modify jump hight. you would have to h4x.

Wait a second, were you playing on a server that has teleporters in every building? If so then that might be a different story.

There is also a mod that makes the Apache a bathtub! But I still like the flying toilet better. It would be much funnier if the onwer has to sit on the toilet instead of the cocpit in order to control the Apache/Toilet. So you would see a flying toilet with a somebody on it. LOL

Here is a serious answer.

You and a friend go and stand by the front door of the ref(the one by the big door). He stands in the corner closest to the door, you jump on his head. Then you both jump together, and you press w while hitting the jump button. If the server doesn't have CP2, and you do it right, you will be up on the ref in no time.

Cool, is there anyway you can do this and record it? OR At least screen shots?

You're a bad, bad man. You just taught a n00b how to abuse glitches. He'll be planting beacons in impossible places in every server her joins now.

If it's not allowed, he'll be kicked/banned for it. I don't really see the problem. I mean if the server disallowed it, but I'm sure I don't see a lot of them disallowing it the last time i checked. Besides, because glitches are used ALL the time. Ever use a PT outside a building? you just used a glitch. Ever tunnel nuke? glitch. Walljump in particular? glitch. No, I'm not saying it's right, but some/maybe most servers allow ref roof nuking.

Wall jump isn't a glitch in my opinion, as it is doable fine, with wall lag fix, and even without. I see totally no reason why it would be a glitch.
It just takes a bit of teamwork to get it right, and if they didnt want you being able to do that then they should have made the jump hight just a bit lower.

By getting the mutant hijacker crate

if you exit a flying vehicle or jump up on the map c&c mars you can eaisily get on top, and the server should allow it unless you plant a beacon up there.

btw you cant get mutants on laddered games...westwood when they were still around made it impossible unless the server has a mod to let you, or like a mutant crate or a god crate. so you cant run around like a little @$$ with a mutant that can shoot the ground to repair itself..

NOTE: Tiberio's are a a good start for any winner's day!
