I was playing in the smaller of the jelly servers and i spotted a cheater that i had seen before. He was earlier hosting a server in which he had people join and cheated so obviously and could not be kicked. Well, i saw him in the smaller jelly server as i said before and he was so obviously cheating. I frcerged him and now theres that retarded system were 3 people need to rg a person. None of the idiots playing there wanted to rg him so he began using a bot to spam the hell out of me because i tried to kick him causing my pc to crash.

The names he uses are crouton24, crouton25, croutonjr and pretty much anything to do with a crouton. If the owners of jelly are reading thes GET SOME MODS. Because the server needs it. And to any other server owners try banning his ip if you see him in a server as he can mess up lots of games and spam the server causing it to crash.

hehe I think that is me you are talking about! I've used those names to cheat before(hypothetically). I have been playing Renegade for over 3 years, I've modded on a couple of major servers, and I'll hack whenever the hell I want, and you can't do shit about it.

Those aren't registered names either, they are just spoofed names that I inject into renegade with a memory editor. If you try to ban me, I change my name around, change my ip, and reconnect.

And for the record, I have stopped cheating. And no, Im not using renguard.

But the bottom line is, you can't stop me unless I want to stop, and if you try to, I'll spoof your name, and go on a hack fiesta with your name, permanently damaging your reputation, and getting you banned from every major server on Renegade(which I have done successfully to many cokemites just like yourself).

Im a n00b, I know. You can delete this, you can respond to this. Hell, you can even print this post out and send it to your grandmother if you want. Bottom line is, nothing you do will make a difference. So just quit your bitching, and be glad that you are fortunate to have a computer and internet.

The End.

(ps-you would be suprised how many Renegade player's passwords(this account for example) are identical to their account on this site)

(psps-I like threads like this)

I played with JeepRubi on a co-op server once. That guy cheats all the time. It was the mansion level and he was walking on the roof with a full auto ramjet.

He most likely used the TDA Ctf script to get himself up there.

You're a god damn child. I don't give a fuck how intelligent you are or claim to be.

"I can do what I want, when I want." Congratulations, you've voluntarily placed yourself amongst all the idiotic children who have the same immature mentality. Whether or not you give a damn is not an issue for me. I just thought you'd like to hear that from someone on your intelligence level, or so the level you claim to be at.

As for making that kiddiot remark about being lucky to have a computer and internet connection, you've now lowered yourself to the level of a prepubescent script kiddie. So let's recap: you've proven yourself to be at the same maturity level of a selfish, ignorant child and a prepubescent script kiddie. ALL IN ONE POST. While it may be "the internet" (as a likely response would be), it's still shows that you have this capability, and that is a major flaw. My guess is that you're no older than 18, gathered by the literacy that you have. However, as far as maturity goes, you're no better than the half-wits on these forums.

I dont normally reply to these kind of threads but why bother give these 'immature children' the kick that they're looking for? They want you to type things about them because they know that this is the internet and they're pretty much safe behind there computer screens.

Take my advice and just ignore them. If they cheat, then well, they cheat. They're only making themself believe that they're better then us when we know that is not true.

It's more entertaining to ignore them and watch them cry because noone is giving them the attention that they crave on.

the17doctor wrote on Wed, 23 August 2006 14:11but whats more entertaining is going in-game and owning people - without cheats, its way more fun.

but this 'hacker' will never be good enough to do that...

Ever think that the enjoyment of using cheats isn't to be good at the game, but to ruin the games of others and piss off other players along with server mods and admins? It's not always because they suck, in fact, I bet you that most do it to simply get a reaction out of people.

No. I have a life, and sometimes it sucks.

I do make my own cheats, and they kick ass more than any other cheat on the internet today.

I played for about 2 years before I started using cheats. I got pretty damn good too. The game is just funner when you have cheats. I don't do it to piss people off or anything like that, it is just funner and more interesting. With the cheat I have made, you can nearly play Ren normally, or you blow away everyone and everything* on the map in less than a few seconds. Try and do that with your pansy-ass 'final renegade'. I haven't used it in a while, but there you have it.

*Excluding buildings and terrain.

Explosion properties are serverside. So unless I was hosting the server, that wouldn't work.

How does it make the game more fun? I've had a fun time using cheats in a private server, but in a public server? That's just stupid.

Big head mods are w3d files of the characters head that have been scaled up and boned. Renegade renders your w3d files, not the servers.

More "fun" at the expense of everyone elses fun. Don't you have any sense of decency to know that it's wrong? The only way I can see someone who cheats not caring about ruining other players fun is the people who like to piss people off. Seeing as how you continued to cheat on more than one occasion, I can only assume that you *don't* care that you gain advantages over people. If you had a conscious you would care that you did ruin other people's fun. But... seeing as how things never really change with cheaters, and they never really get more mature, i'd have to say it won't change anything, and that's why I'm not going to make a huge fuss over it. As far as I know, cheaters don't get banned on the forums. Even one of the people who worked in the cheat community who made cheats and released them didn't get banned. Apparently he stopped making them, but that's no real guarantee. Not to say he didn't. It's quite possible he stopped cheating, but not very likely.

he can cheat happily because major servers don't have any server-side anti-cheat mods. RenGuard 1.03 have been cracked and 1.04 is just something never release, it is totally wrong to depend on it anymore. Server owners should make their own server-side anti-cheat checking (and banning) if they really want to stop cheaters.

Personally, I think your lack of faith for the BHS team is quite bothersome. They've proven themselves to be reliable. Programs don't just get handed to coders from coding gods. Plus, for now, RG 1.03 stops a lot of things. It took a while for RG to be bypassed, so give them a little credit.

i can hack around it in 20 difrent ways and it will let ur pc crash dont use it just get some mods to kick the cheaters

the mod system is way better just have some rules for the mods and have them trained and learn them how to test a player with big head ore something it take's some time but still its way better then having not rg and no cheats on and still getting banned for not using that rg suck up program

Donations status = WE MADE IT! - Crimson

Wow! The generosity of this community has really surprised me. In just 5 days, we reached our $300 goal! We hope that over the course of this weekend, the finishing touches will be made on RenGuard 1.04 in anticipation of our private beta test.

Thanks again for the great support!
