recently, i tried to play zero hour online(i could never connect to anyone for some reason) but, i joined games where the title says it's for n00bs. being new to internet play, i join these ones.

i joined one, and i got called 'too n00bish' cos i hadnt played online yet and had 0 wins/0 losses also, does anyone know a way to connect, as it will get to the connect part and come up with an error message, something like 'unable to connect to player'

Generals Online is stupid. Especially if you really are new to it. Those games that are called "n00bs only" are normally just other "n00b stompers" looking for easy wins to spam their win count up to acheive a higher online rank.
