I can't make mountains. (I know how but I just don't have the skill yet) If you would be willing to make me one and give it back, I would give you 45% credit and you get your name posted on the GDI walkway, just as mine. I don't care if it looks crappy. As long as it looks better than mine. Mine looks really bad.<http://www.anycities.com/user/dead4ayear2/new.zip>Here is the link. It includes a readme and the map. My map is almost done. It just need the walkway that connects the base and the finishing touches. (you know, "spiceing it up". And it just needs texture.

I emailed it to you. It's 500 kb so it might take awhile. In the mean time, I will try to find a new web hosting service.

lmao!!!! I thiknk it's because I made the dam ground have to many polys. I thought I was gonna make it bumpy but I decided not to after I had already converted it to editable mesh. I'm saving this topic to my computer because it's so funny!edit: did you delete your last post? I don't see it. [January 12, 2003, 20:30: Message edited by: dead4ayear2] haha, your going to learn so fast how this map has a polygon problem. like your ground mesh is 936 polys, which you can do in 12! and it would look exactly the same.

actually I just sent it to you with the mountain in it. By the way, it is a very N00bish map so far, but I will reserve judgement till I see some screenshots of it when it nears complete.

"it is a very n00bish map so far" It's my first map I have ever made. Gimme a break. and it's not n00bish. It's just newish. How good do you expect me to do on my very first map? You have hurt my feelings ok, sorry "newbie'ish".That means "good start if its your first map".I actually like what you have done so far, but it is clearly one of your first. You should have seen my first attempt! it was a disaster. [January 12, 2003, 20:46: Message edited by: DeafWasp] thanks. The more misktakes I make, the more I know what I'm doing wrong. But for my first map, it's good enough for me.
