Does anyone know how to edit the physics of the Hummer and buggy to make them unflippable? Sort of like the Recon Bike.

You saying you cant flip the Recon Bike?

I done it enough... kinda annoying, but funny afterwards. ./

Its easy enough to do, all you have to do is raise the entire 3d model of the vehicle above the 0x,0y,0z axis (since the entire vehicle rotates around this point, and the vehicle will try to rest on the worldbox it will try to flip itself back over [trust me it works just put the bottom on the world box on the 0z axis])!

So will I need to do that in RenX or just in the enter/exit zones in Level edit? If in RenX, then I don't have the files for those two vehicles. Any idea where I could get them?

Unfortunately I forgot, you will have to do both, move the vehicle and the zones to match the height of the vehicle. You can use w3d importer to get the vehicle in Renx (you will have to re-texture the vehicle).

It does not, but I got one form some where on the Internet and you can use this one:

Have fun!
