I think it's more likely that Jschultz compulsively lied to his own clan (pretty much the most pathetic thing you can do in the clan world - of course, every cheater does it) because he was desperate for people to believe he actually had something approaching skill.

ill admit it i just thought he was honestly that good i would have never joined {WG} if i knew sm0ke was cheating. its like setting your selfup for a big fall when u associate with people who cheat. troop i was just sayin dont call everyone a cheat who is associated and dont bann me from yourr server with that message cheat! if you feel i cheat test me anytime im more than glad to do tha tests. and tell the rest of your clan this too please because when i came into your server it wasnt to talk shit it was to get in a few games of renegade. cause at the end of the day this is just a game that we all love!

and as for {WG} im pretty sure everyone left tha clan as soon as they saw the video. oh and to answer your question yes i was in the clanwar he got caught cheating in i was the one who setup the war with cybasnipa also i was in teamspeak and all smoke said was i dont understand so obviously he will not admit to being caught he still tells me he has never cheated so i guess hes gonna stick to his side even with that video.

sterosquirrel, another convicted cheater that is in {WG}, also {WG}stonecold, got kicked out of BiO for "undisclosed reason", but i think you can guess why.

BTW, there as another thread on the {WG} forums, of tskillz guy, bringing more allegations against stonecold cheating?

One day out of the blue squirrel was suddenly different. He had insane pistol accuracy and no RG, I guess he would have you believe that it was coincidence that both changes occurred at the same time.

Right from the start he claimed that he had been running RG, a blatant lie. When you openly lie to clanmembers about what happened when they accused you of cheating, they assume (rashly?) that you have something to hide (the hax they can clearly see). This isn't so much "proof", it's common sense.

As if to reiterate his colors, stereo lied to me about that day again, more recently when he tried to get a [Kc] vs -BiO- war. (link in troop's post) This is an excerpt from a private chat with him:

-BiO-Tigger0jk (07/26/06 15:25 PM)

"After 5 years you got cocky I guess, thought you could get away with it. And we don't THINK that, we KNOW. And you WEREN'T running RG. Obviously, you don't cheat now, after we told you we know.... Cat and I both saw you, and that pistol accuracy was inhuman."

Though I respect the fact that BiO is so "anti cheater" I think they go a bit extreme. They do have a few good players, but I agree with #gw on this one ... they make a habit of calling anyone better than them 'cheaters'.

And trooprm02, I thought we spoke about this? Just let this thread go. You're the only one fueling it on. Smoke is long gone to the best of our knowledge, WG died, and TRPM has more important things to worry about.

Obviously you don't play Field much then in those 1850 hours of renegade.

Its blindly obvious that BiO can't appreciate there are better clans than them out there, they just think they must be using some kind of cheat.

Even the GSA Demo clans are better than BiO.

Don't make out me or anyone else are picking on yourselves for no reason.

You know full well why... GW don't even hate your clan, we just think BiO are pathetic for using every excuse possible.

I bet even when the new RG comes out, you will be accusing various clans of cheating etc.

Mitch, you used to be much cooler back in the day ... when BiO was much "fresher" and a little more respectable. I used to play with you on pub servers years ago and you were a good player. I don't know why you have let BiO become such a disgrace in the community. Some of BiO's previous players are good players - and it seems that they finally snap out of it and leave because they realize there is no potential in your clan.

If you would stop accusing everyone of cheating and start playing more clanwars you'd be on top of half these clans and a lot more respectable. But instead you choose to find excuses and fallacies in everything.

#GW is a good clan. BiO's first mistake is that they don't play many clanwars (if any). Your second mistake is being a GSA-based clan. Get your asses on some of the WOL public servers and register on clanwars.cc.

I know you don't care for me and you don't listen to half the things that come out of my mouth ... but maybe if you did your clan would actually become something other than the mockery of the entire C&C: Renegade community.

Your my HERO!!

1. Players having their tanks disappear has happened in renegade thousands of times. Anyone here never had their tank disappear and you were suddenly at a spawn point?
2. As it says, you were playing 6v5 against them the entire game, which just shows quality
3. Even if there was some "cheat" that somehow made players have glitches like this whenever they want to (I haven't seen anything like it, but then again you must obviously know every cheat) Anyways, even if there was some cheat that did this, what would it have mattered. O.K say you would have killed the War factory, the end game screenshot says you were down by 5200 points (remember this is just the map, not the series of games) Even IF you did kill the warfactory, what would you have done? Rush the AGT? I don't know about you but the last time I've seen a team rush another team on a base defence map and they all have tanks, that rush will not last very long. Let's say that EVEN IF YOU SOMEHOW MAGICALLY GOT THE FACTORY, AND THEN SOMEHOW PULLED OUT KILLING THE AGT AND THEIR WHOLE BASE (for the sake of argument) Would that have changed the outcome of the match? No, because they won the other three maps by base destruction.

Speaking of 'cheating', wouldn't you know it? smoke was playing in the game! But it's besides the point because there are no cheats that make you lose vehicles. The guy in question just had the glitch where if you bump into something your tank disappears. This is common in renegade, and could probably be done again if you kept trying. But as far as being stubborn about you believing people cheat, you're the worse.

Remember the one game I had playing in your server. You know the one, you ob-walked and killed the obelisk on field while I was in the field with an arty. Y'see, back then Cereal thought it was O.K to have ob-walking, even after my reasoning with logic that it gives a significant advantage to GDI. Then again, CK never really was one for logic. Besides the point, even after laming it by ob-walking to kill the obelisk, my team (miraculously) managed to defend the base from infantry while I sat outside in the field and held back tanks and tanks. Of course, CK, being the clan-war experienced player he was, bought APCs and tried reaching my base via running straight on. No, he wasn't smart enough to actually STOP, or dodge my shots. All I had to do was lead every single shot and I hit him, and he didn't make it. When his APC died I killed him and though he says he was not in view (Even though I knew he was, since I was the one looking at him, and he wasn't looking at me...), he said I killed him behind the wall (which I could easily do well enough anyways because of splash damage).

Anyways, for months and months he said I cheated, and to this day you still think I cheat, despite me having to download Blazedragoons anti-cheat 4.2 and went on your server to show that I could everything I did that day with his anti-cheat. The only thing I couldn't do was you saying I killed you when you were by your AGT and you had full health and I was an art by the hill. I know you were lying when you said you were by the AGT, so I didn't really care, you said I was alright anyways.

Anyways, whatever, you must cheat because you got banned from fnfalls before. Y'see, moderators can't ever be wrong. They know everything about renegade. You were really CHEATING that game, right? Because moderators are perfect and they all know the damage a unit does. Unlike people like me. Oh wait. Honestly I don't even know why some of these admins make these people moderators. I understand that people have to check me for cheats because some new guy says I'm cheating. to someone new, something like getting even 5 headshots in a row is impossible. And you know what? Every single time a moderator tells me that I cheat, i am perfectly willing to do a test to prove them wrong. Even when they're lunatics like you who think it's some ungodly power to kill an APC before it reaches the nod base on Field.

Sorry, I intended this to be a little more open-ended than you guys took it. I wanted to explain that it's only happened to me once, and in that situation, which is crazy odds (some of you might even agree). That is not a reasonable way to accuse someone of cheating (or a group of people), and I now realize that. I was trying to draw a little context for my unsubstantiated finger-pointing. However, as De7 points out, there is little motive for this "cheating" (impossible as it is), as it would not have changed the outcome of the war.

On the clanwars.cc topic, we actually just started getting set up with it, and we're still in the process of forming (clan is made, but not all the members have joined yet). That was what CK was referring to when he said "cya soon"

Noob question: are wars for clanwars.cc played on WOL? Because my WOL for ren has never worked and while I assume it's quite fixable, if they are on WOL I need to get on that.

<http://clanwars.cc> > create a Global account

Then go to the Renegade league (the link is the banner in my signature) and "Join the league" by creating a warrior account. The warrior account should be the same as the name you play as.

Make a clan, or get someone to invite you to theirs.

When you play a clanner - if you lose, login to the league and click "report a loss", then fill in the clan that defeated you, players, and the map. If you win, save a screenshot of it. Most of the time you won't need it since your opponents should report the loss. If they don't, you can file an AR which means post a thread in the Renegade Audits section of <http://smak.clanwars.cc> with the screenshot of the game(s) you won - the admins will then add the game and give the losing clan a points penalty for not reporting their loss(es)
