Hi.
I've created 2 nice Deathmatch Maps.
C&C_DM_Stonehenge & C&C_DM_Snowstorm.

Stonehenge is a temperate map in a forest with an open plateau in the middle with a stone circle and an endgame beacon.

Screens:

Snowstorm is a low sight DM Map in a snowy valley.
Lots of weapon spawners.

You can them download from

Please give me feedback

No good man. These maps do not seem interesting at all. Just some bumps in the ground and some trees and rocks.

Work harder, learn to model.

maybe you're right, but they're fun.
You haven't played, even downloaded them, have you?
It's not a C&C_Mode Map, it's DM.
And the Forest-Trails from ACK wasn't much more eighter.
I can tell you, Heighfield can be fun.
but thx for your feedback.

No, ACK's DM maps are not much more either. And I didn't bother to DL them either. Except Beach, because so a lot of servers have it in roation.

OK, I accept your opinion about DM Maps using Heighfield.
If you dislike this type, I cannot change that, right?
But if you haven't even downloaded them, don't tell me, it's only some bumps in the ground. I think, a map is good, when it's fun playing and when it looks ok.
I think these maps are fun, and they look not bad. But that's just my very own opinion.

No1 else here? :rolleyes:

i know, i have it already, he hasn't modeled anything, has he?
But I think, a map can be nice without modeled things (except the terrain etc.).

Yes freaker, in that case these are good maps.

But I prefer ones that are modeled.

I didn't know yours were just heightfeild.
