Cool.

Though, I don't understand how you can play a RTS with a controller.

It's been done before, it just sucks. RA: Retaliation was on PSX only, and they released C&C95 for N64.

I remember that, this may turn out to be where EA loses some more fans

Having watched my brother play BFME2 on his 360, I can tell you that RTS games can work with the 360's controlers given the right interface/UI (which BFME appears to have)

In my opinion C&C95 on the N64 was the Best!, besides being able to play online and being able to mod it.

I remember asking My brother if he ever played any C&C, He said he has played C&C Tiberian Sun for the PS1 (the Gray thing)I was like "OMFGWTFROFL, Serious?" lol.

I wouldn't Buy a Xbox360 for certain reasons, Tho I'll be buying it for PC.

The original C&C on DS would own. Too bad it'll never, ever happen.

Also, they should release C&C3 for Wii as well, because the remote would make RTS easy to play.
