IT says pretty much what is written.

He wants to know if there is a program that will change his password for him, as he can't be bothered to be logged in the whole time.

As for anything more specific than that no one knows.

I don't think anyone can help anyways. All you did was ask for a program that changes passwords for you.

That's great. Password for what?

When you spell quite correctly then you can go correcting other peoples spelling mistakes. There is a large difference between me missing an "e" and what he wrote.

He means there's a difference between being too stupid/bone idle to spell something properly and simply missing a letter by accident.

You can atleast use a translator. Google "Dutch to English Translator".

And plus... I don't think they teach english as internet slang... right?
