I've been given the official "go-ahead" to announce that I will be representing the Renegade community at the C&C3 Community Summit. I am leaving for Los Angeles Sunday afternoon at around Noon my time for a short 1 hour, 20 minute flight to LA. I am very excited for this and have been for the last few weeks. I will have the opportunity to take pictures (of some stuff) and ask questions. There are apparently a lot of surprises in store, and I'll keep you all posted as I'm allowed to.

Please let me know if you have any questions you'd like me to ask.

While the main point of my trip to LA is for C&C3, I have also secured myself some time to speak privately about Renegade and its future. I hope to have some good news to report upon my return.

(P.S. This is also why I started the thread about C&C3)

My flight leaves in 24 hours! I'm so excited, you have no idea.

Finally we can talk about this.

Crimson, make sure they understand that we have an extremely loyal and dedicated fan-based (specifically to this game). I know this is a summit for CnC3 -- but if they've agreed to have you as our representative for the Ren community, please do us all a favor and knock their socks off by showing them the hard work we have ALL put into a keeping this game alive. They need to grasp that shit if they're going to give anything back to us (like source, for example)

I really hope something extraordinary comes out of this for Renegade -- and I further hope that whatever knowledge, access, etc. is given is used properly by those it is given to. For the most part, this is a great community with some very talented and loyal fans. And I think I speak for everyone when I say we want many more years of Renegade!

I am preparing a presentation of some of the community's best work. Since they have been kind enough to pay for me to attend this event, I do intend to make the most of it and I'll be taking a camera and releasing things as permitted by the NDA I'll be signing when I arrive.

I'm especially looking forward to meeting some of the community webmasters and leaders. I'll probably be sharing a room with DonCarlo of XWIS/Strike Team since we are the only two girls I'm aware of who are going. I'm not sure if Olaf will be in attendance as well. I'll also be meeting Renardin from the Reborn mod.

I think "beta" probably refers not to the public beta test that several community members have but more to the "beta" version of renegade that we saw in lots of screenshots. The one that looks more like C&C vs the crappy late-stage changes they made where they replaced lots of models (such as pretty much all the nod soldiers and vehicles)

In LA? Nah. Not if you know the right people.

Marina Del Ray is nice -- and pricey. My sister used to have an apartment there, near some nature reserve thing...with a trail to a beach she used to run every morning. I ran it a couple times. Good runs.

The beach...despite the cold, check it out. See how disgusting us Californians are.

17 in SoCal here. Everywhere I've gone beach-wise was neglected to be kept clean. Nonetheless, I haven't gone to that many beaches. I'm really light skinned, and going usually gives me a really bad sunburn.

I quite agree. C&C 3 generally suggests it is the third game in the entire C&C series, where infact it is the 7th (TD, RA, TS, RA2, REN, GEN). It should continue to use names in line with its predecessors of the Tiberium universe.

Command and Conquer: Tiberian Wars

^ Two words: Simplicity and Continuity.

Also I would like to see Havok featured in the game at some point. Perhaps just in a cut-scene movie, or even as a special 'Hero' unit such as Tratos in Tiberian Sun whom is not available in multiplayer, but only for one or two missions. Noting they have stated he is a retired war hero, perhaps a mission where you have to sneak in to rescue him, and then he offers you his services once-off to eliminate the Nod presence in the area. Also if they do, they must include the phrase 'I got a present for ya'. kekeke

Best wishes

I have been told quite distinctly that while we are in a position right now to still affect big change in the game, the logo will not change.

So, I'm supposed to have 5-7 minutes to interview one of 3 key players in the game, but I don't seem to have enough questions to last that long. I'll go through our posts again and check, though.

Crimson, try and ask when the hell they plan on deciding the winner of the C&C Hall of Fame contest if you can. It's been about 6 months or something ridiculous since polls were meant to be opening soon. Methinks EA lost the prize and can't be fucked to buy another one to replace it.

Also, is Predator the same bloke as Apoc?

Also if they do, they must include the phrase 'I got a present for ya'. kekeke

Best wishes Whats the point in that? Anyway,

Have they sorted out who is supporting the multiplayer facilities? Will it be Gamespy again like on ZH?

Will there be a playable demo?

Is the game on course to meet the current deadline of March 2007?

Renegade source code?

I also agree that Havoc should at least play a minor role in single-player.

Let xwis have access to the patcher for renegade so more maps and fixes can be auto-downloaded?

Let BHS have access to the patcher, and let BHS / BI make an auto mapdownloader and distribute it by the patcher

Wouldn't Havoc be like 50-60 years old by 2047? Isn't that too old to be a commando anymore?

I don't think he'll ever get old enough to get tired of shooting up noddies! I mean look at solid snake, he's like 70 in the next game.

An Original Installer?

Mods for 360 version?

In game mp3 player?

Ability to skip cut scenes?

Any time travel?

What kind of game options are we looking at? (ex: no super-weapons, unholy alliance, )

I can tell you now that there will be no mods for the XBOX 360 version unless they go through the approval process. Microsoft has a very strict process for content that goes on xbox live AFAIK.

Pardon my tardiness, but this is something you should/should have really pushed for. It requires no effort on the part of EA and if XWIS or yourself are willing to put up the bandwidth I don't see why they would turn down the idea to atleast allow for the addition of new maps.

They could aproove first, though that would ask time and a small amount of effort...

Can't be any worse than their own BF2 patches can it?

I didn't bear much expense. EA paid for my flight, hotel, and meals. I think the only time I have used my own money is at the EA Experience store inside EALA where we got to buy games at employee prices. I picked up Battlefield 2142 for Blazer for $10.

I am having what I hope will be a long conversation one-on-one with the C&C Community manager regarding Renegade this afternoon. I already have a bunch of stuff prepared.

I wish I could tell you more about what's going on and all the awesome stuff I have been seeing and doing here, but we were told as we arrived back at the hotel tonight that we are not to post anything... I'm not even sure I can tell you where we ate breakfast (and it wasn't terribly exciting).

I will tell you this: I will definitely be playing C&C3 when it comes out, no matter what course I take to get there.

This sucks... I had a really fantastic time and there's so much I can't talk about. Apparently there are some magazines who have exclusivity rights to some information.

However, I will write up a full summary of what I am allowed to talk about. The highlight from today has to have been when Louis Castle joined up with our group and thanked me for helping keep Renegade alive. Renardin told him that I am his hero. Apparently, he and his son still play once in a while, which is really cool. And no, he didn't say what his nickname is.

The reason you haven't heard much from me this trip was because we were VERY busy the entire time. I am putting together a summary of what I'm allowed to talk about.

Regarding the Renegade stuff, we were SO busy that it was difficult to schedule something. The important thing was meeting in person so I'm not some random internet newb to him anymore. We will be having a phone conference tomorrow about the things I wanted to talk with him about instead. Sorry to delay you a bit.
