I tried asking this before, and did not get the answer i was looking for.

When i was in Renegade chat in the game i went to look at server lists, when a in game pop-up came up that said i have no idea why i was suddenly disconnected... then i chose a server and it worked fine, since i quit renegade that time i have not been able to get back on to westwood online. Im sure there is a simple "button" to turn WOL back on, but i cannot find it. Sure i can play on gayspy, but i dont get the same feeling of ownage when i am on it.

"WESTWOOD ONLINE DICONECTED"

P.S. - PLZ dont tell me to reinstall it becasue i cannot find the data disk or the serial.

You don't need the Data disk to install, but you don't have your serial, so... check to see if your firewall isn't suddenly cutting Internet access to Renegade. You might want to even turn it off when playing.

Also, you really shouln't have started a new thread. Your old one is still there.
