I would really appreciate it if someone could temporarily allow me to test my html output plugin for NR on an active server. I need to test with things involving displaying the playlist, and obviously i need players for that, so if someone would be kind enough to help me out, let me know please

I'd like to use it on a server that is regularly populated, so if I could use the aoe server that would be nice. I suppose you could put a new installation of nr for the aoe server and use my plugin with that bot to test. as far as access ill either need ftp with you there available to start it up if it crashes etc.
either that or remote admin.
thanks ahead of time

I'm sure if you ask Crimson she'll give you access to her server to test this stuff on.
