well, any previous problems were... "solved". but now I need your help for an old problem.

oh and btw, is the problem what the picture says it is?

I always have to open renegade twice because when I start it the first time a few secs(30 or something like that) later my renegade closes and it says this:

(If I click on nothing the Renegade option will turn gray after a while)

so if I click renegade again I can play but that's without using renguard. and sometimes people say that I cheat...lol what can I do to prevent the disconnecting?

I already did what they asked about those corrupt files etc... it doesn't seem to work

Ok. When you load up RenGuard for the first time keep clicking on options. When the window opens un-check Core Patch updates (Or something along them lines.) Once you've done that, close RenGuard and load it again. This will stop it from it disconnecting you.

Quote:Renguard says there are errors during the initial scan and stops installing Core Patch

Check the Renguard top window (where it gives the message of the day usually). It will gives you links to the files that gave you errors. Download these files and unzip them to your Renegade directory. If you don't have a program to unzip, you can download one from here.

I already downloaded those things... but still I got problems with snow and fieldTS @ caveman. it was always unchecked.

I clicked check now let's see what it gives.

Move those two files to your renegade/data - dir.

No sorry I mis-informed you. CHECK disable core updates. I got myself confused. Once you've done that, reboot your computer and try again.
