I was wondering if there was a "bought respawn" or one being made.

When your turrent gets destroyed, you could buy another by "poking it" or buying another from the pt

Some servers are modified so you can buy Turrets or other defenses with commands typed, or with beacons.

OMG It would be cool that if you had a construction yard, your team could pool money to rebuild structures. And not just base defenses, large important ones like the Weapons Factory and Power Plant.

Except they would have to cost a lot of money... 100,000 for the Power Plant for example.

200,000 for the power plant, because no power double cost!

You could take it that it was 50,000 originally.

You're going to have to make it then.

Know C++?

I'm learning it and it is sadly not my passion...

I deleted Visual studios 2005 because I was so fed up with it
