We seriously do not need anymore clans.

There are enough as it is.

You said you have an IRC channel, but whats the irc server?

I am not mean.

I was just simply stating, renegade is filled with other sucessful clans. Whats the need for another?

And plus, I tried being productive by requesting the IRC server they didn't include.

How exactly does one define whether a clan is "successful"?

I was just simply stating, renegade has near non-existent successful clans.

And plus, I tried being productive by requesting the IRC server they didn't include.
