Your wallpaper is something to be proud of, something you want your friends and family to see so they know what you're about. No?

Well, whether you believe that or not show your wallpapers here.

And please, show a smaller image in your post and link it to the full-sized version. Thanks!

Hmm, well you can see my past wallpapers, Ubuntu and Vista, at http://stuff.jontysewell.co.uk/desktops/ .
There are a few similar entries, and I like to change my wallpaper quite often.

N.B. It's worth noting that I only use Vista for gaming, I use Ubuntu for everything else (and Warzone2100 at 1280x1024 with 16xAA, woo).

WTH?!?! Tell me how PLEASE!

And is the text more readable than in 1024x768 mode?

Damn, you are lucky. My family hates games and color and fun and entertainment and self-expression. So, I have to do EVERTHING (including playing Renegade) in secret.

So, I have no wallpapers...as much I love to have one though. Life sucks. SIGH

You have to use the forum code [img] (no spaces) etc

EDIT: Nvm that works too

The wallpaper is all I was after. I just personally posted the desktop because I wasn't thinking.

/usr/games/warzone2100 -fullscreen -viewport 1280x1024
Or something.
And I used the nVidia X Config thing to force 16x AA.
And yes, I think the text is slightly more readable, but it's still rather crap.
(Good for a 3D game like that from 1999 though)
