Hey guys, I made a topic about this about 5 months ago and never prevailed. On this new map I made, it works perfectly in single player but in multiplayer the client will enter the game, see a black screen for a few seconds with "Gameplay Pending," and then it will just send them to their desktop.

I still never found a solution to this problem and I was just bringing it back up in case if in the 5 months someone else experienced the same problem and fixed it and could offer me a solution.

There's more information at this link:

It's still an absolutely fantastic map (in my opinion and in many other's) and I'd be more than willing to share it with everyone if we can just get it to work!

Thanks again,

Burn
