A digital alarm clock with a backwards 1hour/minute button on it? That would OWN! I am always accidentally hitting the button one time or so when I set the alarm or something its annoying you have to hit the button 49 more times...

My clock has buttons for both forward and backwards. It is an RCA alarm clock that was like 11$ maybe.

Yes, because those dangerous microwaves (which have been proven to not be dangerous) are something we should all fear!

LETS MICROWAVE A BURRITO!!

I say you should sleep next to your microwave with it on fill and have it on all night with a CD in it!
