Help!!!

I have a major problem with the new renguard.

starts ok, logs in fine but as soon as i join a game it crashes and i get kicked 5 mins later.
never had this problem with the old one.

I feel like i'm the only one with this problem as it says quite clearly it works fine so it's forced update time.

any ideals guys as i'm getting fed up of playing games in installments.

getting kicked from unrules just after you buy a rav if not funny.

Thanks

DJ

you are not the only one; i keep posting about how it keeps dropping everyone and how if you connect to server 2 or 3, you are more than likely going to get kicked-those servers are not working properly and it is still doing it today it's obvious that this release was a little premature, but we are happy that you are trying...well most of the time anyway

BHS are working on a new update and it should fix this problem. But don't ask when it'll be there .

Update on my problem after latest update renguard still crashes 1 to 2 mins into a game but now minimizes renegade, what fun!! reguard stops running 5 to 10 mins later then i'm kicked at least it's something new to guard against.
face to face with a tank or a sac and the screen drops, by the time i've got it back up again i'm dead lol.
any ideas

DJ

I think BHS are working as hard as possible to fix the error, but the client got a lot more complex recently.
