For the people that have seen Final Fantasy VII Advent Children this may sound familiar. I am going to try to remake a huge part of the City of Shinra. Then I go try to make it some sort of Battlefield 2 like map. Probably CTF but maybe just AOW. I promise you. If it succeeds it will become a very cool map.

For now this is just an idea. I try to get this actually done and I try to post some update pics.

Dude i love ff7 and if you can make this map I think it will be an absolute hit.

I will offer my services as a modeler to you at any time.

Ok thank you! But one small question:

How will I make the statue at the town center? Just the original one or a recon bike? Or maybe a large statue of Kane's head?

And by City of Shinra you mean midgar right?

I would use a photo like this. We could play inside etc.

Because as it is, it's very complicated.
