Because lots of the regular players left after yonnie was caught with cheats in the Inf server, myself included.

yonnie does not hack hes the owner and a really good player back from the beta's i mean i know lot of players that are really good like that guy slickbud,captian havoc goodplayers just like them does that mean they hack?

to anyone else the guy who acussed him is an old admin how was power hungrey and a prick who thought he was the best and the got killed by him and had a bitch fit about it yonnie took any test any passed them all and any *cheat name removed*test ss,remote desktop,biatch what ever nothing he dont hack and when the guy accused him of cheating of course people agree with him becuase people think any good player hacks plus yonnie has not played for about 4 months everyone is always in the marathon i mean i know aobut hacks and played agianst him and never thought he hacked LOT of server owners are good assplayers but no one ever had the balls to say they hacked

If you want to believe that you can, I disagree.

He had himself added to ssc_ignore.txt which he lied about and got caught with skins bundled in a cheat pack, those two alone plus his BS performance are enough for me to call him a cheat.

Then you need to improve your skills, some of the kills he has made have been plain wrong, if you didn't see that then I can only assume there are plenty of cheats on XpHaZe now.

well i respect that you can believe what you want but i can assure u xphaze is one of the servers with the most best players around (ok some) and i can also assure u xphaze has the lowest hacker count i can think off we are really down when it comes to people saying someone hacks when we test we do a good test and when we think someone has *cheat name removed*we make them get the latest scripts which blocks them and we tested them we know we cant always block 100% of hacks but iv been to other servers and iv seen lots of cheaters but xphaze is a good server people can think what they want or what they heard most people left because of this whole yonnie cheating thing there are good players why blame him? and yes he had a fall back but we have a good server almost no cheaters and good players fun matches so please guys we are not perfect but dont let anyone make you think were something we are not but light im sorry for what you think but xphaze is different now yonnie don't play new mods and less cheaters and ill respect what ever you think thank you

PS i really like your avatar and siggy

Sounds like an amicable end to a disagreement. tbh I used to check player listings on the Inf server, if yonnie was playing I just wouldn't join.

My avatar was made by l4thal, same with most of my signatures (my sigs rotate, so I dunno which one you're referring to). Sadly I haven't seen him for ages since he stopped playing ren but I must track him down again

...Please don't use my signature. It was a gift to me and it has my name in it.

Aside from that, when people see it they assume i've posted it. If you want a sig you'll need to find someone to create one for you.

SSnipe, you're just downright dumb. You're saying that Vash was the one who said Yonnie cheated... Uhhh, no. It was actually me. You're just going off of what other mods there tell you so you can keep your mod position at XpZ.

I actually caught Yonegga cheating a long, long time ago using Evan's BHB(big head box). Having played at XpZ a lot, I had a couple of friends who were mods, so I had one(AnThRaX) of them ask Yonegga about it and post it in the mod forums to prove he was cheating. I even made a video about it.

Once Yonnie read the topic, he deleted it, and banned both me and AnThRaX. So we made new accounts on the forums and posted another topic in the general section, and got everyone to read it by giving them the link in IRC. Then Yonnie, once again, deleted the topic and banned us from the forums again.

After that, we both went to VashTS because he would actually look at the proof and he did. He watched the video that I made and the SS's that I gave him(that Yonnie took btw) that proved that Yonnie cheated. He made a topic on the forums, and everyone read it and posted. Even the other admins at the time posted that they knew he had been cheating for years. Most of them decided that they were tired of his bullshit and left the community. Yeah, that's the real reason why Matty and Vash left XpZ.

Yet yonnie claimed he downloaded the skins on their own, disproving the theory that Vash edited the screenshots.

Edit: Thanks for removing my siggy though lol dude, Vash has nothing to do with it.

I caught him cheating. Yonegga had posted the screenshots and I noticed bigheadbox on them. Ya know how I know that Vash didn't make crap up? Because I'm the guy who pointed it out to everyone. I even have screenshots that tell that the old admins had known about yonnie cheating for years.

Please re-read my post. Noone had any proof that Yonnie cheated until I came along. You're just believing whatever Yonnie and his moderators say because you want to keep your mod status there.

Yeah^ Its still kinda gay that he lied to his own community and used cheats against them. ;/
But still, he cheated for years and almost all of the admins know it. I took screenshots of the topic if you'd like to see them.

I used to play in the servers until that incident and it's only within the last month and a bit that I've restarted playing in them on a regular basis. I've only had a few problems with the over abundance of regulations to play and the long drawn out tests.

I like this server though it is empty most of the time...me and a Renegade friend of mine play at least one game in this server each day.
