Not sure what happend, I'm guessing I have lost a driver some where, but for what ever reason all my media players (Windows Media, Winamp, and Real Player) will play the audio part of a video, but not the visual. Its rather annoying, and I'm not even sure where to start on fixing the issue.

Problem started recently, may have been after I updated winamp.

Anyone have a solution? or know who I should talk to?

Ugh, never mind, vid card thought there was two screens, and was using "theatre mode" on the second, non existent screen...
