I don't remeber that, can you post a screenshot please?

Is it while you have controll of your character or a scene that you watch?

The closest thing I remeber to that was the mutant who kinda ran up to you and punched you about a bit, thats possible...

you have control of your charecter then raveshaw runs up on you picks you up while that is happening you dont have control of your charecter then he throws you across the room then you have control of your charecter then that can happen agian if he get to close and it causes damage to you

I don't think you will be able to make that happen as a seemless gameplay mod server side.

He should throw you on random (but as I remember he will crash a multiplayer game when he attempts to do something). But attach a send custom on death script to him, send the custom to a Dave's arrow, when the Dave's arrow gets the message have it destroy the building.

Yeah, what he said. I think that that the Raveshaw boss sprays tiberium at you on multiplayer.

In single player which i play once in a while, 5 times so far, mutant rav will pick you up and make havoc squirm then toss him against the wall and do massive damage....thats why you want to stay far away and hs him with anything you got.

One Personal Ion Cannon or two will take him out in SP. No trouble.

Lol, where'd the SBH come from?

I see he only has one death anim, hence why he went up top for a bit.
