Reborn was released 31st December, 2006. You should go get it.

It's so good that it's like you're not even playing it.

The first result turns up their site, so I fail to see how it wasn't useful.

If you use Firefox hover your mouse over the link and at the very bottom in the status bar it will show the parsed url. To me the section that says "C&C+Reborn" shows that he actually done the search for you, then linked to the results.
