Before i was still able to load up ren and try and play. But until recently it wont load. Like i get this little blip of a box and then i get an error. Soooo i decided to uninstall ren. I did. Now im trying to reinstall and when i click install i still get this little blip. Did a system restore to the day before and the week before it happened and it still does it then. Here is a picture of what happens. and no its not because my cd is the original and its scratched cuz my laptop and other desktop can read it. Any help to get me back to playing ren would help.

Try deleting C:\Westwood (If it's still there, And re-try the installer.)
