anyone know where to find them?

I've googled it numerous times, and got nothing.

What i mean is, those images people put in signatures that shows rank stats.

Well, technically they should all be somewhere in one of the .bin files in your c&c3 directory. my suggestion would be to get a bin extractor and start rooting through.

I don't mean the images that represent the rank, but images i could put in a signature to show my rank, as well as some other stats that would require a dynamic image to show properly...
