I've been trying to mani-install Renegade (something is messed up with my setup.exe) and I've got to the point where I need to create the serial hash, but don't know how to. I tried a RenegadeInstall program, but it gave me some error to do with my registry (runtime error 91) If anyone has any ideas, it'd be helpful, thanks

I did that, but it needs the registry info for the serial, I believe.

Now when I try to load it it either does :

windowed mode: makes a small folder-type square in the top left corner of my screen and closes

OR

full screen : screen goes black momentarily and then closes
