it gets to westwood online mode then the server screen dissappears

it keeps happening over and over this started happening after i turned it off to download and run the ren alert fds then i couldnt get the ren alert fds working then i try to turn on my renegade server then the fds screen keeps disappearing any ideas why this is happening

Run the serevr in the DOS command line so it gives you the error instead of closing.

Why would you attempt something you have no understanding of...

He means run the command prompt. (WinKey + R, type CMD.) Then type cd <insert server directory>, then type "RenegadeServer.exe".

I know you can start it from there, but there is no way to bind it to the cmd window, most of the messages are not even written to std::out.
