Is there any plans for a new more updated FDS (with gameplay pending patch ping patch and the BI anti cheat thing and fixing whatever problems there might be) and maybe more commands?

Doubt it. EA is the only one with source code access, and I doubt they will do anything.

Couldn't Crimson ask for it? Couldn't she ask for the entire source code for Renegade?

Plans? Yes.

More? No.

Renegade is basically run by the community right now. Don't you think EA should give somebody like Crimson the source code by now?

Maybe he means an auto installer which installs most important FDS fixes?

Blazer was planning to make something like that but I don't think he got to it.

Well I kinda meant that in a way one that installs a server.dat with some of the fixes and maybe fixes the problem where people get kicked off the fds and crash to desktop (happens to me alot on some ppls fdses).

After hundreds of people talking about how they want the source, it's obvious by now that at least someone has asked.
