I know I have only put out one map, and it was pretty * good from what I hear (the artist is always harder on his work then anyone else)and I have a bunch of cool maps in the works, but I am addicted to generals.I am still going to play and make maps for renegade, but I cannot promise any more releases from me or how often I will check these boards.Time will tell.I definatly want to pump out a few more maps for ren, and I got a few great map ideas left so I will try my hardest to stick around. So don't count me out until you see the next C&C FPS game.You may yet see a couple of great ren things from me. And if you have/want/love Generals, see you there.

Although I am wicked bad in-game on either, and can map/mod for both types.Generals has a lot of flaws, but it still is very fun, and I am sure mod makers are going to make that game own. Renegade on the other hand is a very fun game but has a bunch of flaws as well, and could have been made a lot better.Personally I am going to reinstall Soldiar of Fortune 2, and Half life again and see whats up with them now a days.I have every C&C game and will continue to follow that trend. I am never leaving the community, and will continue to mod/map the games in my interest.And my interest jumps around. Once I was heavily into mapping for RA2, then I went back to TibSun, then Renegade, then Tib Dawn, then RA2 again.So I will always be doing stuff.But I got a wicked mod idea for generals, and it should change the game a bit, but also keep it a little the same.The HIVE will come soon.

i know this isn't real smart posting this on a westwood site, but you can download generals off of kazaa... FOR FREE! 200 Megs for the iso file i think it was. (no i didn't download it, my comp has enough problems running renegade , and i have a 400 MB/month dl limit which i usually double anyway, which is pretty good for a 56k connection!)
