You could make a powerup that grants you some money, and make your character drop it when it dies. That way, you will pick up the money powerup you drop when you die.

you would want to use the "send custom on death" script, and i'm sure there is a "grant money on custom" script. not sure how you would make them work together tho ^_^

"JFW_Add_Script_On_Custom" but it would be a lot easier just to make him drop a powerup, beings you would pick it up. Otherwise if I had not read what Canadacdn said, thats what I would have done, use the attach script that is.

Actually just do it in the "Destroyed" event of a script that has been attached to the character GameObject.

Death custom must match the add custom's script's. (and make a daves arrow with the JFW_Reflect_Custom script and use that for the id).

Attach this script to the PowerUp. But then you need to find out how to drop the powerup.

JFW_GrantMoney_Powerup (clone of M00_GrantMoney_Powerup)
 ScoreAmount (how much cash to give)
 Entire_Team (give to everyone)
 Randomizer (randomize how much cash to give)

EDIT: You don't need to edit Scripts.dll just to drop a powerup! There is already a script for it but I dont know what it is.
