ok no disrespect to anyone but theres somthing iv been wondering heard and been thinking and what i bealive and think 0x90 made *cheat name removed* and is the biggest hack out and eveyone fights over who has it or not and yet gets a lot of respect here on the forums then most ppl.....

why is there a evilwhitedragon here on ren forums that works for black intel and also a powerfull person with a lot of ref on the biggest cheating forums around aswell.....

someone told me they think crimson and 0x90 where the same ppl one bad and one good diff ips and serials so that renegade wont be out of work.....idk...

why cant they just make somthight o complty stop the cheats i know new scripts stops them but anyone with c++ since they give the source out can edit them which i thing they should stop but why dont u make a automatic patch in ren with new scripts?

have u notced most good snipers form the uk or Australia are good shots bUT beaucse they lag like hell and not really that good?

why do some ppl stick of for ppl when ppl say they hack and they like omg he dont hacked i known him for years.....its a agme u could be an owner and u could be god but doesnt mean u wont ahck in agame everyones a suspect lol

i just had to say ;p

You keep a cheater off a Renegade server because he's making the game unfair to other people. A cheater can't cheat on a forum.

1. 0x90 is not Crimson, one is from Germany and other from America
  2. If you make anti-cheat software, then it's good to keep up with cheating sites, like EWD does
  3. You can't make programs that completely stop cheats. Renguard has tried this for ages, just doesn't work (though most cheats are stopped by it)
  4. lag >>>> cheats

well heres a request i tryed it and so did other ppl making ppl get the new scripts makes there game crash when trying to load *cheat name removed* but some people are good at c++ and if you release the source they could bypass it

People who play the game just to cheat wouldn't upgrade their scripts.dll, since 0x90's cheat doesn't work with d3d8.dll.

It is possible to use *cheat name removed*with d3d8, however, it does require some tweaking, or so im told.

Tweaking the average cheater, with the intelligence of a peanut likely will not be able to do :>

Oh and tbh the most EWD does is anger some cheaters or make them tell him their XWIS nick(I read them as well, primarily because of BIATCH).

he has over 700 posts in less than 4 months... must be quite a spammer lol. really how the hell did you not notice?

and crimson stop making cheats dammit! ewd get off the cheaters forums. im surprised they havent banned you from them yet since you make anti cheat software. i mean if people want 0x90 banned from these forums for making cheats, then why arent there any cheaters on their forums not wanting to ban people making anti-cheats?

I found out about this long ago, once in a while a few of us go and read about new cheats to see what they do so we know how to test for them as some are becomming harder, such as the dmg hack right click, back then no one worried about testing right click, now you cant tell really if they do click right or not, you gotta just sneak attack them with logs showing their damage levels.

It's easy to tell if they right click or not...just use a modified objects file on your client that makes the alt-fire a different color.

If you didnt notice, which most of us who test on a daily basis might know, if they use right click dmg hacks, they dont move at all when attacking, they will have their gun down like they have been sitting there for 30 seconds, but a bullet will hit you and do extreme damage, I see mostly 200 damage per pistol shot, or 100 laser rifle, or 400 pistol shot, I've even seen hacks when they kill you theres no kill message, but it hacks it so it adds a kill to the hackers score, another thing hard to catch unless you read logs of who killed who, then check the point score board to see if anyones kills went up.
