Hi! Down to the point. I am starting a mod project to make custom license plates for vehicles once you buy them. Like if i buy a hummer..there would be a license plate that says bladez57 (my WOL Login). It will be a hard project but i want people in. Also please dont mention this idea w/o my name...I need a team of people that can help put this project together... We need: -People with good scripting abilites -People with some programming knowledge (we may need it) -Good people that can use RenX -Anybody that can lend their help in any wayThese are people who we specifically would like to have on the project:-SirPheonixx-DanteRight now maytridy and i are gonna lead the project.Please post here if you can offer you talents to help this mod... Thank You.

Yes, we need a good scripter like Dante, or someone. Is this project actually possible? I think it will probably take a major scripting task, but it would be great if it works. It will be part of the Matrix Revolution mod, if it's even possible.--We request SirPeonix for his PT icon skills.--We request Dante for his scripting skills. Texturing is the thing I do best. I am good at map and building modeling. I also have a wide range of knologe (sp?) of renx.I'm not very creative though. If I have a good plan I can do a good job. But I'm not very good and thinking of ideas. But I'm told what to do I can do it good. [February 15, 2003, 18:08: Message edited by: dead4ayear2]

Anger management for when I'm not even upset in the slightest?I think you need to get your psychology degree from something other than a toy vending machine.

What's the point of personalized license plates if anyone can identify you without them?

The plates are there for decoration and to prevent same-team stealing.

think this will matter either, they know if they bought the vehicle or not, if they in team steal it, report them to the server admin.
