i click the ren icon and the window pops up...then it says error and some error # then it asks me if i want to search the internet for a solution

i have reinstalled ren, restarted my pc, updated the scripts, and downloaded and replaced both always.dbs and always.dat

the reason i replaced always is because i installed renguard to see if it would tell me an error and it told me i needed to replace my always file or w/e (i forgot which one it was so i did both Laughing)

it still doesn't work so i need someone to help me or preferably do remote assistance and just fix it btw i have vista but i don't really think it matters here...it quit working b4 i installed vista Right-click -> Run as administrator.

Or, if you want to set it so that you don't have to do that everytime, find the option by right-clicking and clicking Properties.

Try running Scripts 3.4.3 and see if that helps.

(I'm taking a wild guess as to it being a DirectX error, so getting ren to use DirectX 9 and installing X9)

Try reinstalling as per this.

Any joy?

I'll be willing to give remote assistance a shot. I'll PM you my email address.

(For the technical support regulars, I'll post what I did when/if I fix it)
