ermm, confused...why not make the building controllers somewhere on the map, the building will function yes, but the beacon will work IF IT IS GMAX, if is HeightField, there are known issues with it.

ive got my 2 bases with 0 peds in themi want the nod ped and the gdi ped in the feildbut none of the controllers reach that farif i place a controller near them,You can't win by destroying all buildings because there is an invisible one next to the beacon pedwhat can i do??im 99\% done and i dont think this is possible so im just going to release map with a neutral ped and nobody will prob like this map thenwish i could get it done the way i want it done!!

Basically he wants to know how to make Nod or GDI own a certain pedestal. This isn't possible when you place them too far away from building controllers as they become useable by both teams. I think what he means by a script is to have a script that you attach to the Beacon scriptzone or a generic scriptzone that allows you to specify the team that the beacon pedestal is for.
