You're allowed up to 9 names. To see them, simply login with a wrong password, then the motd will show you all your nicks.

Then it means your only using 1 name for that serial, otherwise go to XWIS's renegade serial checker, they have a tool online which you insert your serial or name and it comes up with all names using the serial.

You just need to reinstall the westwood internet components (You probably installed The First Decade)

Also, while we are on the subject of names to serials, does anyone know if I can delete names that I made so I can make more? If so, how?

Well, one day (i was playing with the install quite long without probs) I kept getting 'version mismatch' with my name DutchNeon, I found a fix to it (changing Capitals) but then after a few days my Westwood Online was incorrect or something While I didnt changed a thing. How can i re-install the internet components? (yes i got TDF)?
