Subject: WOL online components?

Ok well I've got everything set up...only one problem: Every time I click on Westwood Online it brings up a dialog box after a few seconds saying that I need to reinstall the components for WOL. I'm not sure what that means and I tried to search the forums but didn't find anything. Could anyone help me?

Edit: I looked over the Strike Team's site after I found a link for it. Still couldn't find anything to fix the WOL online component errors. I'm gonna take a look through my TFD disk to see if there anything in there that will help.

I've reinstalled renegade 2 times already trying to get this fixed. I'm using Windows XP.

Edit: Would mentioning that I have TFD help at all?

I did! I tried to even uninstall all of TFD. Then I installed Renegade ONLY. Then installed Renguard and the Core patches, but it keeps coming up with the WOL components error. Can't anyone figure this out?!?!

-.- Note to everyone: If you want to play renegade, don't install a TFD patch on it...that's what seemed to cause the problem for me.

Didn't know they actually needed patches for games that work perfectly fine. I suppose they screwed up putting everything on one dvd?

Kind of. They had some issues with Red Alert's FMVs or something.
