Sorry if this isn't the correct area but just had to vent a little. Was just on n00bless aow.

First got a guy who is overmining big time and not even mining properly. Tell him to watch his c4 count and i get bite me and he tells me hes in the army so i guess that makes it all better. All mines in hon go up and gdi walk in and well enough said, hon gone.

Next map volcano. We go to rush and we are all set to go, we are almost there then the one guy puts in "fall back fall back" so just myself and one other dude goes and of course we get killed. I ask why did you say fall back when we were in the middle of rushing.

Answer: Cause gdi had tanks.

Omg they had tanks, well dam son we shouldn't ever rush again.

I quit after that. I'll return later when its ok to rush when the other team has tanks out.

Btw I love N00bless, just was a little frustrating tonight

Ah the over-miner, an instant annoyance that can really only be cured if a moderator is present.

OMG just thinking if we ever made a post call Ren Venting, It would go on and on for about 25 pages.

Problem with on-line gaming is that it is available to all people who have the game (in question, Renegade or no) and an Internet connection. Having common sense or base intelligence sadly isn't mandatory hence the supreme lack of intelligence we see on-line nowadays.....Having said that, without these people, n00bstories' reason to be would be no more n00bless, is pretty much the only sever I play on.

[EDIT] Sadly I missed the spell check button, and had to edit

however since I first joined, there have been an increase in noobs and decrease in tp. I don't exactly know when to log on so that I'm not totally frustrated by these noobs.

yeah this is the main reason i havent touched ren in almost 2 months now. this moronic and noobish behavior never used to bug me that much but lately it seems like you need to be a mod and qkick the moron atleast once for that person to start listening to what you have to say and not give you the normal "shut up noob" responce

I wasn't saying anything bad about any server. Just stated the server with which I was playing on. Even said I really enjoy playing on N00bless.

I think you missed Blazer's point. n00bstories.com is a place to post a "STORY" about n00bs you encounter in ANY situation (including real life) or if online from ANY game in ANY server.

There are posts on there concerning Renegade from loads of servers, not just n00bstories servers.

I didn't say anything about that specific server, I'm just pointing out that in general, there are noobs literally everywhere.

I plan to create a map in the future that will be a sort of 'orientation' for multiplayer, and help new players not be retarded.
