Yup its true about 8 fires again where i live all over the mountains with bad winds worse as the cedar fires where a few hundred thousand acres burning down rain ash on the city's including mine

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cedar_Fire and most of California was toast and now its happening again so anyone who reads this jsut keeping u up to date and to watch out if u live in the California area where the current fires are sadly idk how bad it is but i heard its bad i pray this wont get bad California burns down every year. I think it's part of nature's cycle.

Cigars? I don't see much cigars in California. It's probably stupid campers or people light bonfire..... on top of a mountain.
