yes another myspace code im looking for

i found this tracker...works but only if there picture is on my pro.....is there a way to post the code on my page BUT have another code like hide the picture form showing up? its jsut a code like this

exmaple i just want to put a code ;like that in my page but not have the picture show up....so any one know anything?

add: style="display:none;" to the img tag (idk if myspace will block it, haven't tried it there myself).

Unless you're wanting something else, of course.

Not the right place also imho.

hi

most third party trackers

dont allow maual modification of their code, so proly if u edit the img tag the code will be corrupted.

visit the site and login with your acount and search for an option that hides the image.

if not get another tracker

peace
