Hello!

You all may or maynot remember me back in November 2007 complaining about my laptop crash:

Starbuzz wrote on Fri, 16 November 2007 12:41I always thought, personally, that playing shooter games in a console is weird but my laptop (only comp with internet) fell yesterday and the hard drive guts broke loose. I am at work now lol.

So, now I am left only with my long-asleep PS2 for gaming entertainment.

Anyway, I have not played Renegade from then till now! Sin! Well, I am back with another comp. I got my new siggy, new pilot avatar...Starbuzz the Elite Orca pilot and super Havoc is back to kick some a!

I will be be playing regularly 2 hours a day from today (January 29) onwards.

I know nobody cares.

I may be biased but I think at n00bstories we run a pretty fantastic team and a tight ship without the bullshit you get on other more immature servers.

Allright! I am moving to n00bstories!

Well, in an hour or so. I am starting installation of Renegade and am going to do the usual stuff: RG, CP Updates, and download fanmaps.

Isn't RG required to get CP updates? CP is why I run RG LOL

Also, yes the first n00bstories server is full...I wish I have a better comp and better internet. I think I will play mostly on the second server.

I just played a bit LOL...man I lost most of my aiming skills but I can get that back in a week or tww I am sure...so far I am sticking with vehicles.

Nice, been wonderin where ya been. Anyway, I don't suggest playing in the big servers, its OK but MANY better servers exist. Play in jelly aow/ra and n00bstories ccm2, and you will see renegade was intended for 20-30 players, no more

That is the reason why I love the server so much.

You aren't human if you don't think being in the same room as those morons isn't entertaining. It is also the reason why I am still pissed off that I can't find a game with C4smoke!

Starbuzz, you might want to check out n00bstories in the off-hours in the evening/late night US time. We are usually full throughout the day but have 20-40 outside of those hours.

FYI, Westwood hosted 3 or 4 servers at 40 players when Renegade first came out so don't tell me that they intended you to play with less than that.

They were wrong. Haha, well 40 is fine, up untill I realized wtf I was doing, I used to play in 40 (not more, anymore is just too much) player servers and it was OK. I still pop in sometimes, just not the same gameplay tho
