I bought a Vista laptop back in June, but stupidly with only 1 GB of RAM. So I changed to WinXP.
I like the interface of Vista, so, are those Themepacks any good? Or do they hog your RAM like Vista? I plan to buy an extra Gig in the next few days...

Uhh...1GB with Vista is not THAT bad. And the theme thing doesn't. It's only Vista precaching your most used programs that eats RAM.

1gb vista ram is 500 mb of xp

it is like if i have a vista and xp and i'm running same stuff on both of them and my commit chanrge is 450mb on the xp then on vista it is 900mb vista sucks

Use Vista transformation pack 8.

It looks like this
